Administration charges

Estate Administration includes identifying the deceased's estate, applying for the Grant of Probate and distributing the estate to the beneficiaries. The value of the estate for pricing purposes is determined as all assets, less any liabilities as at the date of death (excluding any mortgages).

The cost of administration is dependent upon the complexity of the estate and is always agreed with the Executor, and with the Executor's permission, the beneficiaries, before any administration work progresses. A minimum fee of £700 always applies.
